GET WHAT YOU WANT The "Just as Good Kind" Never Pays.

If there is one thing more than another that should aggravate a self-respecting person, it is to be told that the article they ask for at their druggist's is not to be had, but that they can have something "just as good or better." The principal reason for such attempts at substitution is either the desire of the storekeeper to self something on which he can make more money, or he hasn't the goods asked for, and wants to make a sale of something in its place.
